In conjunction with the American Academy of Addiction Psychiatry (AAP) and the Providers' Clinical Support System For Opioid Therapies (PCSS-O), Substance Abuse journal is pleased to announce its fourth annual Special Section - "Implementation and Quality Improvement: Applying and Advancing Best Practices in Opioid Use Disorder and Addiction Treatment."

As opioid use disorder (OUD) treatment availability increases, so does the need to improve and advance treatment processes. The journal is especially interested in scholarly research within the following areas:

- Quality improvement in Opioid Overdose Education and Naloxone Distribution (OEND) programs, including linkage with OUD treatment
- Innovations in clinical trial, epidemiology, health services, and translational addiction research
- Implementation science research
- Addiction program quality improvement
- Addiction policy and education initiatives
- Interdisciplinary research conducted by health professionals who are traditionally underrepresented in addiction research (e.g., pharmacists)
